

User Stories: Artifact Repository:

Assumptions: Two user types - general and privileged.

User Stories derived directly from Leon's requirements in meetings.

As a general user I want to have a record of my family's artifacts and be able to keep track of which family member(s) they are/were associated with.

As a general user I want to be able to see photos/pictures of the artifacts themselves, and be able to read a text description of the artifact or transcription of written text on the artifact.

As a general user I want to be able to login to my account/profile without extensive hassle

As a general user I want to be able to view a 'family tree' showing the members of my family (past and present) and be able to click on them to view that family member's bio/info/profile/related artifacts.

As a general user I want to be able to search for artifacts based on metadata tags such as by type, age, name etc...

As a general user I want to be able to add metadata tags to existing artifacts.

As a general user I want to be able to comment on artifacts in a dedicated 'comment section' and be able to reply to other comments in the comment section.

As a general user I want to be able to send a message which has an artifact attached to it.

As a privileged user I want to also be able to do everything a general user can do.

As a privileged user I want to be able to create new artifact pages, in which photos, annotations, artifact tags and text may be included.

As a privileged user I want to be able to edit existing artifact pages and add or remove any contained components.

As a privileged user I want to be able to add or remove associations between artifacts and one to many family members included in the family tree.

As a privileged user I want to be able to create and edit pages for family members to be included in the family tree, and add one to many associations between the family member and various artifacts.
